Message from the Principal Mrs. Suzelis

I have never been one to decorate for Christmas before Thanksgiving. I just always wanted to savor the blessings of Fall, which is my most favorite season.

This year because we have my mom and out of town company coming to stay and visit with her-we decorated early. Surprisingly it was not stressful and really kind of joyful to mix my mama's decorations with my own. We have an extra tree and lighted village all beautifully displayed in her favorite room. It was a different kind of joy.

Holidays over the last few years have been hard. It has been several years since I have been able to see my grandchildren, and the holidays make these even more pronounced emotionally. Our remaining family has had to learn how to celebrate differently over the last few years. This kind of defines our journey over the last few years, doesn't it? We create a new normal as we have to learn how to recreate or redefine many many aspects of our lives both professionally and personally.

This is so true of our journey educationally, we are constantly redefining what we are doing and how we are delivering our instruction. Our children right now have many needs that go beyond the defined parameters of what we have addressed educationally in the past. We have children, who have not learned how to "BE" together socially and emotionally, who have been kept apart and separated from others so there is much to learn that they quite naturally missed because of our Covid years. They have developmental gaps that we see acted out daily in learning & behavior.

We have to learn to be together and function as a part of community that has stepped out of isolation. We are getting there; it takes time.

I am grateful for the support we have as we navigate through all this together. Part of that team approach is pictured to right. This admin team really does make a difference. I am so blessed to be able to work closely with them. KAS
